Welcome back PAWS pals! The summer months have flown by and winter is quickly approaching; or should I say, Arizona's version of winter. As always, there are exciting things happening within PAWS and fun, winter themed activities waiting for you and your pet. Let's crack into it!

HOLIDAY REMINDERS

New Years Eve is something to consider! Is your pet fearful of loud and booming noises? Fireworks are not just something to worry about during the Fourth of July! Remember to call your vet within an appropriate amount of time to request a refill of your pet's anxiety medication. If you're interested in an alternative solution, call PAWS today and ask to talk about Adaptil products!

There are a few things to think with the holidays approaching. We all know and love the tasty treats that the holidays bring but do you know the potential dangers they could bring to your pet? Choking hazards, toxin ingestion and more! A few foods to avoid are: Rich/fatty foods, bones, onions/garlic, chocolate, alcohol, raisins/grapes, nuts, dairy products, and yeasty doughs. Say no to scraps!

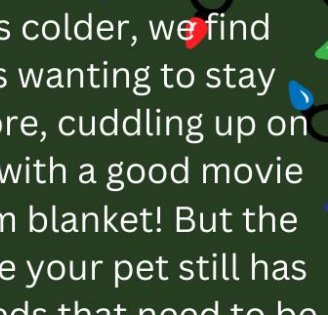

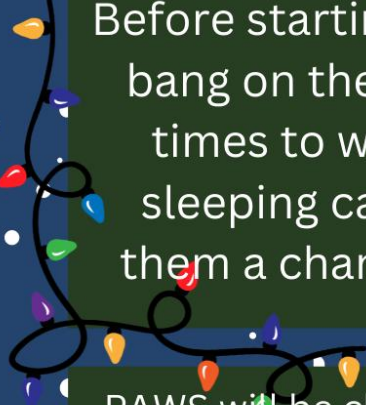

The colder it gets, the drier it gets! But you won't have to worry about your pet's nose and paws this year! Introducing...Sandy's Nose Butter! Simply applying this solid lotion to your pet's nose and paws will moisturize and protect from the drying and crackling arid desert climate! This product is made up of all natural products including: pure shea, mango butter, grapeseed, avocado, apricot, jojoba, vitamin e, and beeswax!

Some outdoor cats may try to find a nice dry spot to take a nap. Unfortunately, some cats may climb under the hoods of cars in order to find shelter from the cold. Before starting the engine, bang on the hood a few times to wake up any sleeping cats and give them a chance to move.

As it gets colder, we find ourselves wanting to stay indoors more, cuddling up on the couch with a good movie and a warm blanket! But the chances are your pet still has medical needs that need to be met and maintained! Don't forget to check out our online pharmacy! By simply going to pawstucson.com, hovering over the "resources" tab and clicking the "online pharmacy" option, you'll be able to select and order any medications or supplements you'd pick up here! Once it's approved by our staff it will be shipped to you directly!

PAWS will be closed for Thanksgiving 11/24 and returning 11/28. We will also be closed for Christmas 12/24 and returning 12/27. And lastly, we will be closed for New Years 12/31 and returning 1/3. Have a safe and wonderful holiday season!
